

ABSTRACT INFORMATION AND APPLICATION FORM

2024 World Eye Bank Symposium

GAEBA welcomes abstracts for the 2024 World Eye Bank Symposium (WEBS) in Jakarta on the 25th September 2024.

Submissions are due by Monday 27th May 2024. Details on the process are outlined below. Abstracts are welcomed for oral and poster presentation.

Themes

GAEBA upholds bioethical standards and practice, and supports a harmonious and open approach to sector advancement, through the sharing of knowledge and resources.

Presentations may be global in nature or offer local and national examples that may inspire delegates from around the world to further their own practice and contribution to the field.

Example of acceptable themes:

Donor dignity and management	Tissue processing and allocation
Geographic risk variance	Quality Management
Cellular and future therapies	Transnational/cross-border activities/tissue and service sharing/capacity development
Endothelial corneal transplant/dysfunction	Ethical practice/conduct
Management/workforce development	Research and development
Microbiology/immunology	New technologies
Integration into other health systems	Sclera, amnion, and other areas of service
COVID impact on services	Support towards the United Nation's Sustainable Development Goals and similar global initiatives
Vulnerable populations and minority groups	Case Studies
Biobanking/Repositories/Research allocation	Projects and programs

Instructions:

1. All delegates and abstract presenters are responsible for managing their own WEBS registration. Please visit <https://www.gaeba.org/webs2024/> for event and registration details. Discounts are available for GAEBA members, and low and middle income nation delegates.
2. Individuals/collaboratives may submit more than one abstract.
3. The submitter of the abstract must receive the approval of all co-authors before including their names on the abstract application.
4. Research/projects involving:
 - a. Humans and human material must adhere to the relevant ethical principles for that project (e.g. Declaration of Helsinki – World Medical Association and The Barcelona Principles) and demonstrate ethics approval.
 - b. Animals must adhere to relevant national or international animal ethic guidelines.
 - c. Service, capacity development, policy and practice processes are encouraged to indicate how their abstract meets/works towards the aims of The Barcelona Principles and/or the UN Sustainable Development Goals [<https://sdgs.un.org/goals>] where applicable.

5. Abstracts and presentations are to be in English.
6. Presenters and co-authors must disclose conflicts of interest.
7. GAEBA and WEBS reserve the right to reject or decline abstracts at any stage.

Review Process

A dedicated independent Abstract Team will transfer your application to members of the abstract review panel. A strict process is in place, for example, reviewers will not review applicants from their own organization or where they are a co-author. All abstracts will be reviewed by an independent review panel to determine selection.

Outcome notification

Applicants will be notified in late June/early July of the outcome. Successful applicants will be directed to the WEBS Conference Team who will provide information on the presentation style and length, how and when to register for WEBS, and how to up-load their pre-recorded presentation.

Submit

Please complete and return the application form (on the next page) to: websabstracts@gaeba.org by Monday 27th May 2024.
